Workshop to Discuss Proposed Adoption of a Schedule of Fees for Mobile Source Certification and Compliance

Invitation to Participate

The California Air Resources Board (CARB) invites you to participate in a public workshop on April 30, 2019, to discuss proposed adoption of a schedule of fees for mobile source certification and compliance. CARB is initiating its regulatory process to develop fees. This workshop will initiate this process and discuss the type and scope of fees under consideration.

All meeting materials will be posted on the following CARB webpage:

Background

Historically, only about one third of the products certified by CARB have been assessed a certification fee. On July 1, 2018, new legislation passed by the California legislature and signed by the Governor allows CARB to adopt a schedule of fees for additional mobile source categories and activities, such as:

- to cover all or part of CARB's reasonable costs associated with certification, audit, and compliance of off-road or non-vehicular engines and equipment, aftermarket parts, and emissions control components sold in the State, as authorized pursuant to Sections 43013 and 43018 of the Health and Safety Code and subdivision (h) of Section 27156 of the Vehicle Code. [SB 854]
- to recover CARB's reasonable costs to enhance its certification, audit, and compliance activities for new motor vehicles to detect defeat devices or other software used to evade emissions testing, including, but not limited to, the increased utilization of in-use and real world conditions emissions testing. [AB 2381]
